FACT SHEET

How can adaptive clothing benefit you when dressing is a challenge?

Caring Clothing offers a solution for you, staff, residents and carers to make dressing easier. The clothing is designed for a wide array of conditions and are beneficial for those who are independent and require assistance, and to those with restricted movement and in wheelchairs.

How does Caring Clothing benefit staff and carers?

| Benefits  | How?  |
|---|---|
| 1. Reduces the dressing time and increase quality time              | The functionality and design of the adaptive clothing makes it easier to dress and undress.   |
| 2. Provides more time to complete other tasks                       | The designs include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• wider neck opening</li> <li>• open back</li> <li>• side opening trousers</li> <li>• all-in-one dignity suits</li> <li>• footwear for wide fitting</li> </ul> The adaptations of the clothing provides for quicker dressing, allowing greater quality time with the resident to complete other more enjoyable tasks. |
| 3. Allows residents to be independent and participate with dressing | The clothing adaptations encourages success, independence and assists with dressing.  |
| 4. Reduces the risk of injury to staff and residents                | The clothing adaptations require less rolling, lifting and repositioning of residents who have limited physical capabilities. You no longer have to struggle with individual physical restrictions as the clothing adapts to their needs. This reduces the risk of injury to the resident as well as injury to staff and carers   |
| 5. Reduces awkward joint movement                                   |   |
| 6. Clothing lasts longer and easier to maintain                     | The clothing withstands the high temperatures and rigors of industrial washing. No shrinkage or fraying and doesn't require ironing.  |
| 7. Clothing is ideal for low and high care clients                  | A common misconception of adaptive clothing is that it is only for high care needs. Our range is also ideal for people with varying ailments such as dexterity issues, continence and other limited movement problems.  |
| 8. Clients can be dressed whilst lying down or standing             | The wide neck opening, open back and side opening allows for dressing either lying or standing.   |
| 9. Maintain residents dignity                                       | In particular the All-in-one Dignity suits reduce risk of disrobing. The dignity gowns cover the entire shower chair and individual to ensure they are not exposed.   |
| 10. Continence and toileting is made easier                         | The side opening trousers and open back trousers allow for ease of dressing and continence aids. Dressing and undressing is made easier whilst operating a lifting machines.  |
